Dina Deykun - wedding photographer in France

MEET DINA

Editorial & documentary style wedding photographer.

Not the photos, but the stories. I'm an artist who creates beautiful and romantic portraiture.

I believe wedding photography should tell a story - not just what happened, but how it felt. My work blends fashion-inspired aesthetics with classical artistry to create images that are both timeless and emotionally real.

I try to reflect the poetry behind it. The unseen glances. The quiet gestures. The in-between moments that feel fleeting but say everything.

To achieve that, I draw from a wide visual language - blending the sophistication of fashion photography with the precision of editorial work, and grounding it all with the emotional weight of classical artistry.

Each frame is intentional. Each image is designed to feel timeless.

I'm constantly studying - I follow many of the greats in fashion and advertising because they understand mood, minimalism, and light like few others do. These elements find their way into my work - not copied, but translated through my own lens.

Favourite Country: France

Secret Talent: Snowboarding

Favourite Drink: A soft, fruity red wine — best shared slowly

MY APPROACH

I photograph quietly, with intention. I wait for the moments, sometime, I direct them.

While much of what I capture is candid and intuitive, I also know when to step in. During portraits or key transitions, I'll offer gentle direction to help you feel confident and at ease. My goal is never to stage - only to enhance what's already there.

I move with the rhythm of the day, blending into your celebration while staying attuned to light, composition, and emotion. Every frame is considered. Every image is built to feel effortless and real.

WHY I LOVE WEDDINGS?

Weddings bring together everything I love about photography

Weddings bring together a portraiture, fashion, detail, and storytelling photography. It's a day full of real emotion, beauty, and joy. I love capturing people when they're most themselves - laughing, crying, celebrating. It's honest.

“

I like a combination of fashion and reportage photography during the weddings and I think it is my style.

My Inspiration

To keep my perspective fresh and my work evolving, I surround myself with art. I visit exhibitions often, study the great fashion photographers, and draw inspiration from cinema, design, and classical composition. It's how I stay connected - to creativity and to craft.

KIND WORDS

A few words from couples, shared after the day had time to settle.

She was AMAZING ! I loved the communication prior to the wedding and the direction and organization during the wedding. You could tell she has done this many times and has a routine which takes the stress off of you! She's not only a great photographer but a sweet and fun person ! We were all blessed enough to see her bust some moves even ! Love her! And love my wedding photos!

Dina was our Photographer in June '25 in the Dordogne, and she was amazing. So easy to meet her online, organise all of the details easily, and then send her photos we wanted in preparation. She also worked really well with our videographer, and made sure we got every photo we needed. Highly recommend!!

Dina was everything we could've hoped for and more - calm, intuitive, and so deeply attuned to the emotion of our day that it felt like she was preserving not just moments, but the entire soul of our wedding. She shot our welcome dinner the night before, then followed our jam-packed 12-hour wedding day schedule without missing a beat, keeping us on track while still making every moment feel effortless. She knew our venue inside and out and still arrived early to scout new spots, came prepared with poses and ideas, and somehow turned even a 15-minute session into something efficient, fun, and full of magic so we could spend more time with our guests. Even our friends and family loved her - everyone cheered for her as she left for the night. I truly cannot recommend her more.

Dina was our photographer for our wedding in the South of France in August, she was amazing. She was so lovely and very organised, she knew all the best places at the venue to get the most beautiful pictures. It was an extremely hot day and worked incredibly hard to get all of the photos I requested. The photos are all beautiful!
